Slip & Fall Attorneys in Phoenix, AZ

At Ramos Law, we help slip-and-fall victims across Arizona pursue justice after serious injuries like broken bones, head trauma, and spinal cord damage. Property owners are legally required to maintain safe conditions, including regular inspections, timely repairs, and clear hazard warnings.

Different rules apply to commercial, residential, and government properties—and government claims come with shorter deadlines. That's why it's crucial to act quickly and work with a local attorney who understands the nuances of Arizona law and can fight for the compensation you deserve.

Steps to Take After a Slip & Fall Accident

- ☐ Seek Medical Attention: Prioritize your health and safety.
- ☐ Report the Incident: Notify the property owner and request a written report.
- ☐ Document the Scene: Take photos of the hazard and your injuries.
- ☐ Gather Witness Information: Their statements can strengthen your case.
- ☐ Avoid Giving Statements: Avoid speaking to insurers until you've consulted a lawyer.
- ☐ Consult an Attorney: Ramos Law will evaluate your case for free.

Steps to Take After a Slip & Fall Accident

Several factors can impact the strength and value of your claim, including:

Proof of Negligence

There must be evidence the property owner knew—or should have known—about the hazard and didn't fix it.

Quality of Evidence

Photos, incident reports, medical records, and witness statements can significantly strengthen your case.

Comparative Fault

In Arizona, if you're partly at fault (like being distracted), your compensation is reduced by your share of fault—but you can still recover damages.

Severity of Injuries

More serious injuries typically result in higher compensation due to increased medical costs, lost wages, and long term effects.

Why You Need an Attorney

Slip and fall cases can be complex, with property owners and insurers often denying liability—making it crucial to have an experienced attorney on your side. An attorney can:

- ☐ Investigate and gather evidence to prove negligence
- ☐ Handle all communication with insurance companies to protect your rights
- ☐ Ensure you meet Arizona's two-year statute of limitations
- ☐ Gather Witness Information: Their statements can strengthen your case.
- ☐ Accurately calculate the full value of your claim, including future medical expenses and lost earning potential
- ☐ Take your case to court if the property owner refuses a fair settlement
